

There's no place like home

All around the world, through night and day
There's only one place I come back to, where nothing has changed
To you I return, overwhelmed with joy
The memories that have been made; will forever stay in my mind

Through happiness and sorrow
Through sickness and health
You have seen me grow
From an infant to adult

The jouissance that is brought,
The endless laughter surrounding my heart
Togetherness is always a part
All this is because; I am where my love is cherished, from the very start

A few days within you
Processes like an eternity for me
Everyday in my siesta
The olden memories live on in my dreams

I always approach you no matter what
Because I am always welcomed with cuddles and an open heart
You make me feel cozy, you make me feel alive
This is why I say, there's no place like you
